

NATIONAL WRITERS UNION - WESTERN NEW ENGLAND

WRITERS NIGHT OUT

Great Ideas, Great Writing, Great Company

Reading and Discussion

Describing the Indescribable

Pain and Suffering

in Literature

by Dr. David William Page

Surgeon, Professor, Author

Wednesday, November 18, 7 pm

Montague Bookmill

Free and open to the public!

RSVP appreciated by Nov 15, to nwu@valinet.com, 413-586-8844.

Dr. Page's passions include teaching, surgery, writing, patient advocacy, writing about the interface between literature and medicine, and encouraging patients to find their own voices. He has published a thriller, two reference books for writers, and many scientific papers. His book Body Trauma won the Independent Publisher's Book Awards Silver Medal in 2006. More: www.davidpagebooks.com.

The location (www.montaguebookmill.com) is at 440 Greenfield Rd, Montague, MA. Food is available at the Lady Killigrew Café in the Bookmill building. NWU-WNE website: www.nwu5.wordpress.com.